

STRANGE PEOPLE TO MIGRATE HERE

Russian Religious Sect Living in Canada Want to Come to Virginia.

HAVE PECULIAR CUSTOMS

The Doukhobors, Though Communists, Are Sober, Industrious and Thrifty People.

It is the case of these Doukhobors that is the subject of the article in the Times-Dispatch of October 3, 1906. The Doukhobors are a Russian religious sect living in Canada. They are known for their peculiar customs and their desire to migrate to Virginia.

Impelled by the same motive that brought the Doukhobors to the United States, they are now seeking a new home in Virginia. They are known for their peculiar customs and their desire to migrate to Virginia.

Women Do the Work.

This strange belief has been held by a group of women in the city of Richmond. They believe that women should do the work of men.

D. A. R. Sign Contracts For Memorial Hall Work

Installation of Heating and Lighting Plants and Building of Back Pavilions Have Now Been Arranged.

WASHINGTON, D. C., October 3.—Contracts have been signed by the National Board of Management and Mrs. Donald McLean, as president-general of the D. A. R., for the installation of the heating and lighting plants and for the building of the back pavilions of Memorial Hall.

may have ample play here. Impelled by the same motive that brought the Doukhobors to the United States, they are now seeking a new home in Virginia.

Views of the Members.

Senator Roberts said: "I am opposed to bringing Dr. Dewey here. The difference between Dr. Dewey and Dr. Foster is personal difference, and should be settled by them."

State's money in calling further will.

Mr. Pulliam said: "I am opposed to bringing Dr. Dewey here. The difference between Dr. Dewey and Dr. Foster is personal difference, and should be settled by them."

Chairman Sadler, in supporting the resolution, said:

"It appears that several members of the committee think that Dr. Dewey is to be brought here to make a comparison of the two hospitals. That is not so. The motion is to ask Dr. Dewey to tell of the practical workings of the treatment of consumptives and epileptics. I consider it absolutely necessary to have Dr. Dewey here."

Mr. Dunn interrupted quickly to say:

"Give Dr. Foster the money and he will show you how to do it."
